1. What Is Constitution?

Almost everything we do is governed by some set of rules. There are also rules imposed by morality and custom that play an important role in telling us what we should and should not do.

1. What Is Constitution?

Some rules that are made by the legislatures (also known as Lok sabha/Rajya Sabha in India), for their own country, are called "Law".

We need Laws in Society so our society can regulate and work properly. They are designed to protect us and our property and to ensure that everyone in society behaves the way that the community expects them to.

Laws tell us what to expect as a consequence of our actions. Laws have been the glue that has kept society together. Without laws there would be complete anarchy.

1. What Is Constitution?

I) In General-

The Constitution is the supreme law of the land. All other laws have to conform to the Constitution. The constitution contains laws concerning the government and its relations with the people.

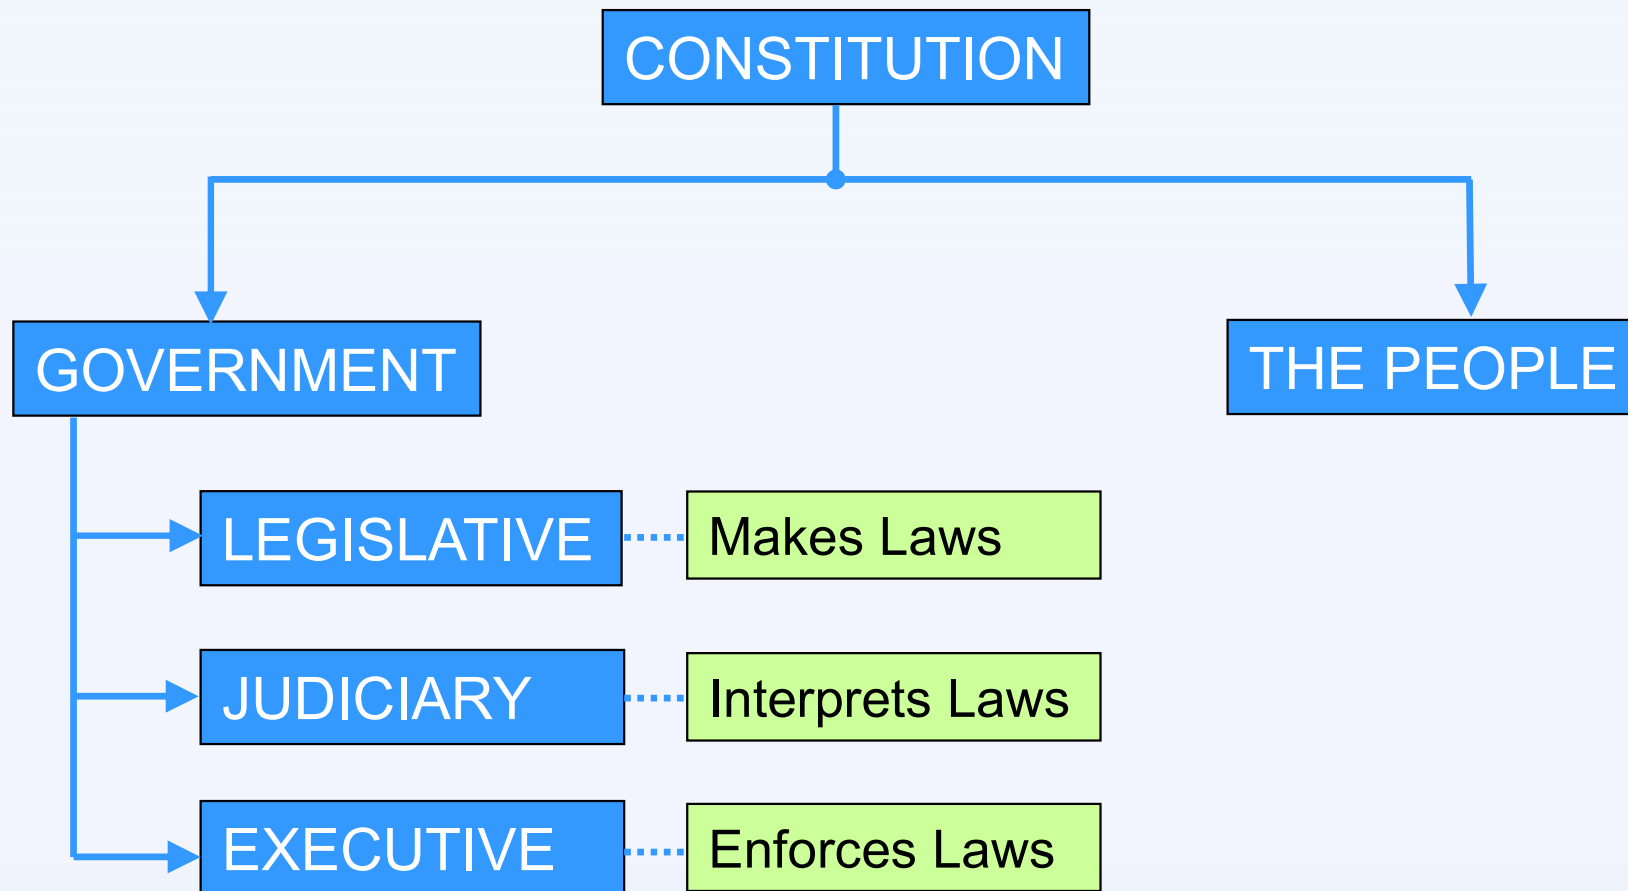

A constitution is concerned with 2 main aspects:-

- a) The relation between the different levels of government and
- b) Between the government and the citizens.

1. What Is Constitution?

Role of Constitution in relationship between Government and its people:-

1. What Is Constitution?

II) Technical Definitions-

A constitution is a set of fundamental principles or established precedents according to which a state or other organization is governed. These rules together make up, i.e. constitute, what the entity is. When these principles are written down into a single collection or set of legal documents, those documents may be said to comprise a written constitution.

or

The document containing laws and rules which determine and describe the form of the government, the relationship between the citizens and the government, is called a Constitution.

III) An observation-

“The Constitution is not an instrument for the government to restrain the people, it is an instrument for the people to restrain the government.” --Patrick Henry

2. Why Do We Need Constitution?

In General-

- I. We need a constitution to govern a country properly.
- II. The constitution defines the nature of political system of a country.
- III. sometimes we feel strongly about an issue that might go against our larger interests and the constitution helps us guard against this.
- IV. All the 3 organs of government (executive, legislature and judiciary) functions within the constitution. All the 3 organs of government, including ordinary citizens, derive their power and authority (i.e. Fundamental Right) from the constitution. If they act against it, it is unconstitutional and unlawful.

So constitution is required to have authoritative allocation of power and function, and also to restrict them within its limit.

2. Why Do We Need Constitution?

2. Why Do We Need Constitution?

To perform following Functions we need Constitution-

- I. a constitution is to provide a set of basic rules that allow for minimal coordination amongst members of a society.
- II. a constitution is to specify who has the power to make decisions in a society. It decides how the government will be constituted.
- III. a constitution is to set some limits on what a government can impose on its citizens. These limits are fundamental in the sense that government may ever trespass them.
- IV. a constitution is to enable the government to fulfill the separations of a society and create conditions for a just society.

4.The Framing of Constitution of India.

The Constituent Assembly of India was elected to write the Constitution of India. Following India's independence from Great Britain, its members served as the nation's first Parliament.

This body was formed in 1946 for the purpose of making independent India's constitution. The assembly passed a resolution in 1947 January defining the objectives of the constitution:-

- 1) To set up a Union of India comprising British India and the princely states.
- 2) To set up a federal form of government with separate state and central governments.
- 3) To set up a democracy in which all power is derived from the people:
 - I) where all people are guaranteed justice, equality and freedom;
 - II) where minorities, depressed classes and the tribal's rights are protected;
- 4) To protect the integrity of India and her sovereign rights over land, sea and air.
- 5) To help India attain its rightful place in the world - and work for peace and welfare of all mankind.

4.The Framing of Constitution of India.

Dr. Sachchidananda Sinha was the first president (temporary) of the Constituent Assembly when it met on December 9, 1946. Later, Dr. Rajendra Prasad became the President of the Constituent Assembly and Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar became the Chairman of its drafting committee on December 11, 1946 .

5.The Preamble to Constitution of India.

The Preamble to the Constitution of India is a brief introductory statement that sets out the guiding purpose and principles of the document.

WE, THE PEOPLE OF INDIA, having solemnly resolved to constitute India into a SOVEREIGN SOCIALIST SECULAR DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC and to secure to all its citizens:

JUSTICE, social, economic and political;

LIBERTY of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship;

EQUALITY of status and of opportunity;

and to promote among them all

FRATERNITY assuring the dignity of the individual and the unity and integrity of the Nation;

IN OUR CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY this twenty-sixth day of November, 1949, do HEREBY ADOPT, ENACT AND GIVE TO OURSELVES THIS CONSTITUTION.

5.The Preamble to Constitution of India.

The first words of the Preamble - "We, the people" - signifies that power is ultimately vested in the hands of the People of India. So far the Preamble has been amended only once in 1976 by 42nd amendment (change) which inserted the words Socialism, Secularism and Integrity. A brief description of these concepts are as follows (in the order they come in Preamble)-

1. Sovereign- It means free to follow internal and external Policies.
2. Secular- It means no particular Religion is preferred.
3. Socialist- It means no concentration of Power and Money.
4. Democratic- It means rule by elected representative of the People of India.
5. Republic- It means no room for hereditary ruler or monarch.

5.The Preamble to Constitution of India.

The preamble-page, along with other pages of the First and original Book of Constitution of India, was designed (Art) and decorated (Frames) solely by renowned painter Beohar shakha.

Hindi (Left) and English (Middle) versions of Preamble as available in the First book of Constitution of India (Right).

5.The Preamble to Constitution of India.

Purpose of Having a Preamble:

The Preamble to our Constitution serves two purposes: -

- A) It indicates the source from which the Constitution derives its authority;
- B) It also states the objects, which the Constitution seeks to establish and promote.

The Preamble seeks to establish what Mahatma Gandhi described as The India of my Dreams, "...an India in which the poorest shall feel that it is their country in whose making they have an effective voice; ...an India in which all communities shall leave I perfect harmony. There can be no room in such an India for the curse of unsociability or the curse of Intoxicating drinks and drugs. Woman will enjoy as the same rights as man."

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(i) Constitution of India In General:-

Constitution of India is considered to be the supreme law of the country, as it puts forth the framework of fundamental political principles. It establishes the structure, procedures, powers and duties of the government and mentions the fundamental rights, directive principles and duties of citizens.

The Constitution declares India as a Sovereign, Socialist Democratic, and Republic with a parliamentary form of government.

The Indian Constitution shows Federal as well as Unitary System.

1. Federal System- powers are divided and/or shared between state and central governments

2. Union System- power concentration in central government with weak state Government

6. What Is The constitution of India?

Both features are listed below:-

Federal Features-

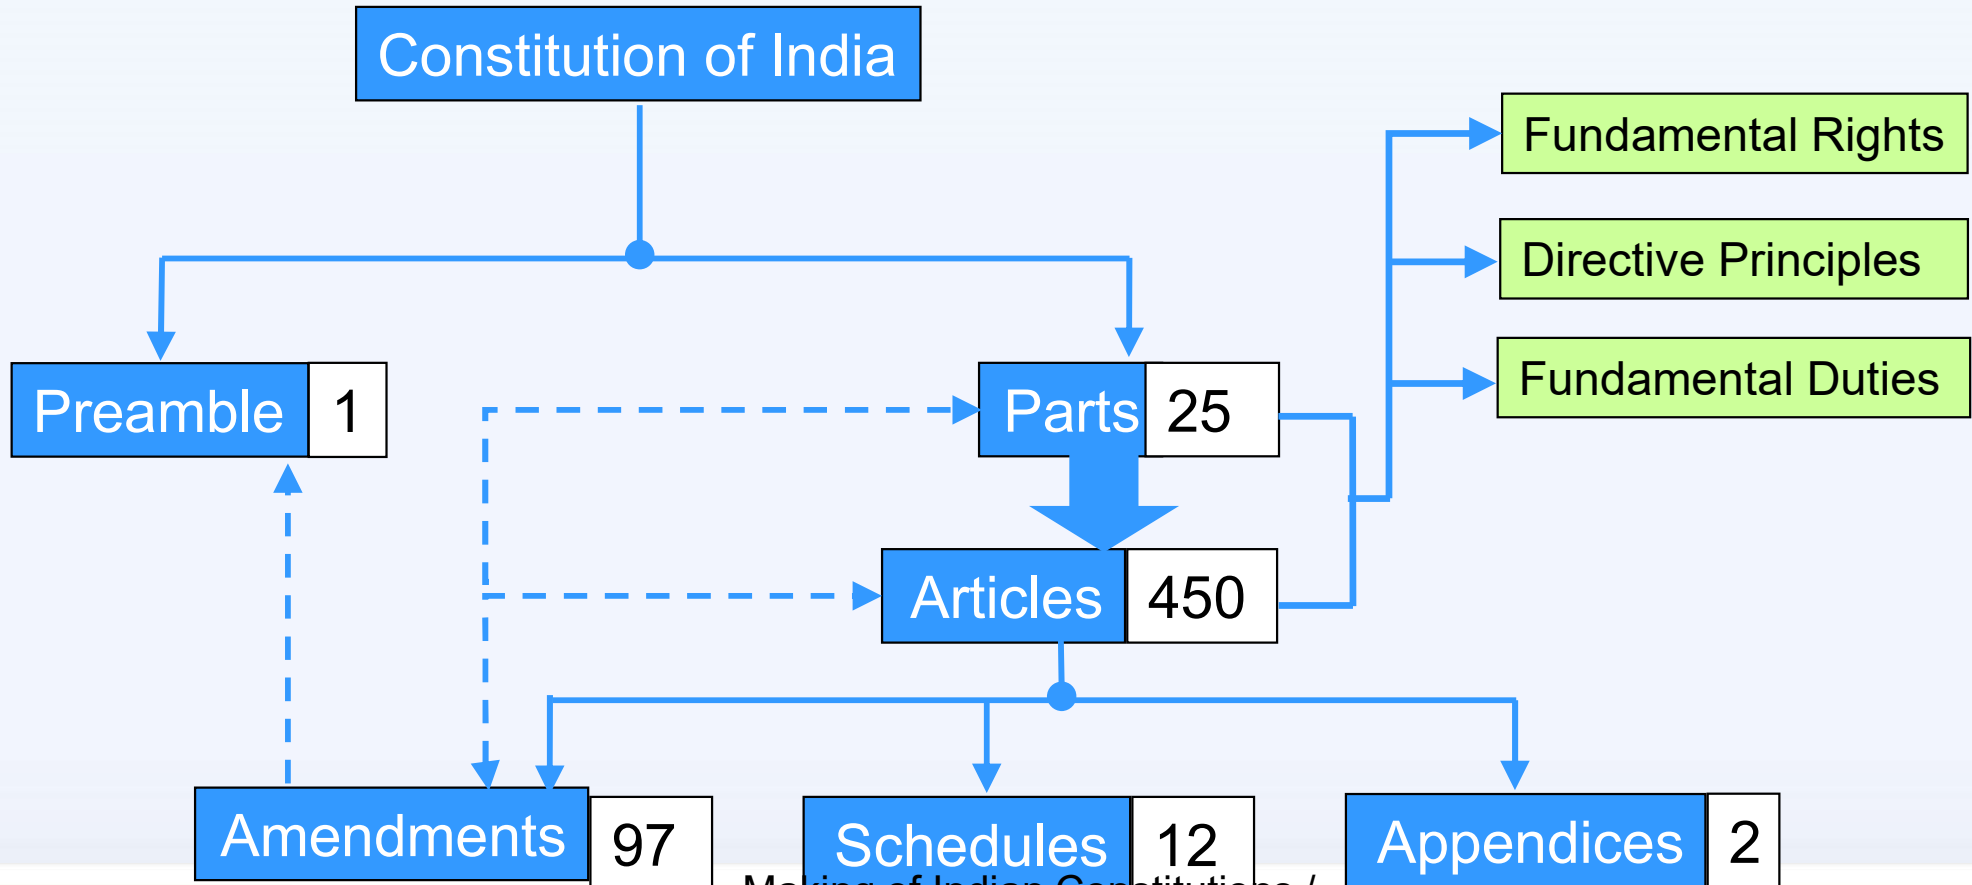

1. Supremacy of the Constitution,
2. Division of power between the Union (central Governments) and State, and
3. The existence of an independent judiciary in the Indian Constitution.

Unitary Features-

1. Single Citizenship
2. Single Constitution
3. Power of union to override on the state matters
4. During emergency the system became virtually unitary
5. Changes in the names and boundaries of the states by the Parliament
6. Integrated Judiciary System
7. Centre appoints the Governors
8. Dependence of states on the centre for economic assistance and grants.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(ii) Structure of Constitution of India:- The Constitution, in its current form (March 2011), consists of 1 preamble, 25 parts containing 450 articles, 12 schedules, 2 appendices and 97 amendments to date. Although it is federal in nature it also has a strong unitary govt.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

Different elements of constitution are described as follows:-

1. Preamble (1) - The Preamble to the Constitution of India is a brief introductory statement that sets out the guiding purpose and principles of the document.
2. Parts (25) – The individual Articles of the Constitution are grouped together into the following Parts:

6. What Is The constitution of India?

4. Amendments (97) - Amendment of the Constitution of India is the process of making changes to the nation's fundamental law. Changes to the Indian constitution are made by the federal parliament. The procedure is laid out in Part XX, Article 368, of the Constitution.

5. Schedules (12) - Schedules are lists in the Constitution that categorize and tabulate bureaucratic activity and policy of the Government.

6. Appendices (2) - They are extension to the constitution.

7. Fundamentals Rights (Part III- Article 12-35) - The word fundamental suggests that these rights are so important that the Constitution has separately listed them and made special provisions for their protection. The Fundamental Rights are so important that the Constitution itself ensures that they are not violated by the government.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

Fundamental Rights are different from other rights available to us. While ordinary legal rights are protected and enforced by ordinary law, Fundamental Rights are protected and guaranteed by the constitution of the country.

The Constitution of India recognizes certain basic fundamental rights for every citizen of India, such as:-

- (a) Right to Equality
- (b) Right to Freedom
- (c) Right to Freedom of Religion
- (d) Right against Exploitation
- (e) Cultural & Educational Rights
- (f) Right to Constitutional Remedies

6. What Is The constitution of India?

Ordinary rights may be changed by the legislature by ordinary process of law making, but a fundamental right may only be changed by amending the Constitution itself. Besides this, no organ of the government can act in a manner that violates them.

Any infringement of fundamental rights can be challenged by any citizen of India in the court of law. The Constitution of India also prescribes some fundamental duties on every citizen in India.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

8. Fundamental Duties (Part IV Article 51A) - These Fundamental rights have been provided at the cost of some fundamental duties. These are considered as the duties that must be and should be performed by every citizen of India. These fundamental duties are defined as:

6. What Is The constitution of India?

5. Article 50 of the Indian Constitution the state will try to separate the judiciary from the executive in the case of public service.

3. Gandhian Principles

1. Article 40, State will strive to organize Panchayats in villages and will endow them with such powers which enable them to act as units of self government.
2. Article 43, the state shall strive to develop the cottage industry in the rural areas both, on individual or cooperative basis.
3. Article 47, the state will strive to ban the consumption of wine, other intoxicating drinks and all such commodities which are considered injurious to health.
4. Article 48 reveals that State will ban slaughtering of cows, calves and other milk cattle.

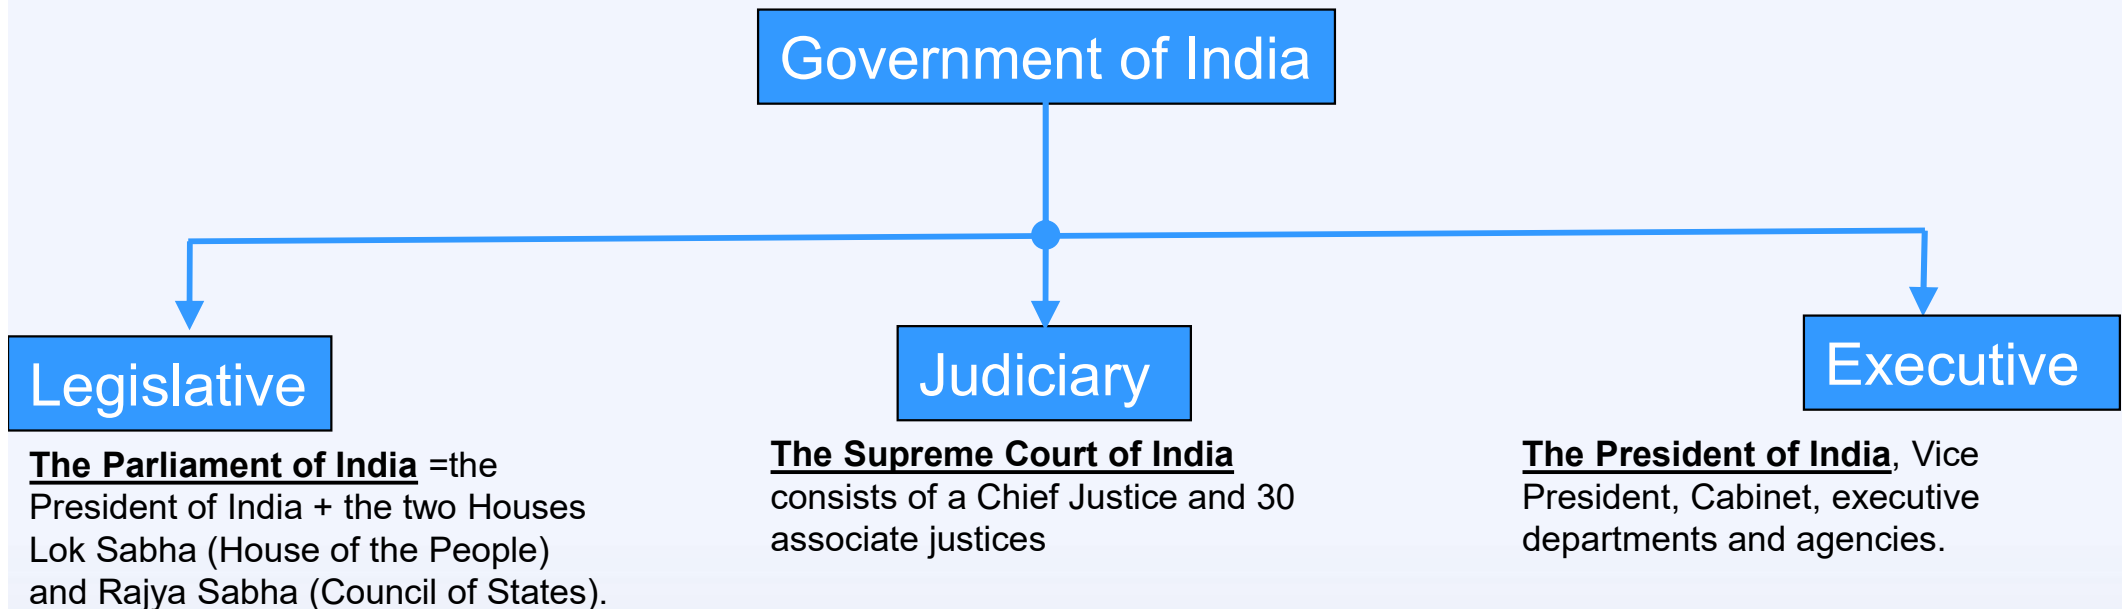

4. International principles

1. Article 51(a)- The State will strive to promote international peace and security.
2. Article 51(b)- The State will strive to maintain just and honorable relations among various states in the world.
3. Article 51(c)- The State will endeavor to promote respect for International treaties, agreements, and law.
4. Article 51(f)- The State will strive to settle international disputes by arbitration.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(iii) Constitution of India and Government:-

The Indian government is divided into three distinct but interrelated branches: Legislative, Executive and Judiciary – have to function within their own spheres demarcated under the Constitution. In other words, the doctrine of Separation of Powers has been implicitly recognized by the Indian Constitution.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(iv) The Basic Principles of the Constitution of India:-

A careful study of the Constitution will show that there are at least eight basic principles which are embodied in it and which form the foundation of the political system in India. These are:

- (1) Popular sovereignty,
- (2) Socialism,
- (3) Secularism,
- (4) Fundamental rights,
- (5) Directive Principles of State Policy,
- (6) Judicial independence,
- (7) Federalism and
- (8) Cabinet government.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(v) Procedure of Amendments of the Constitution of India:-

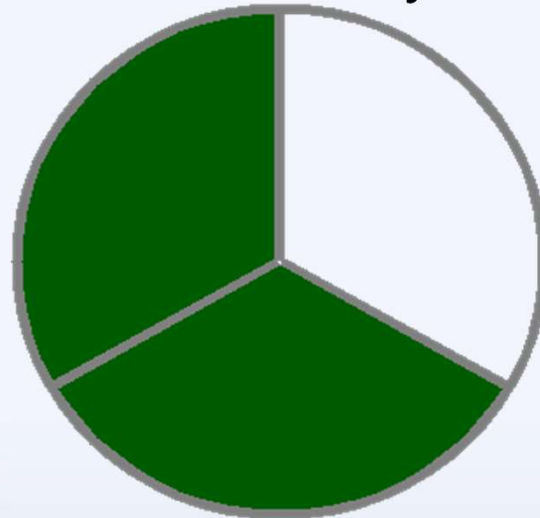

The basic structure of the Constitution is unchangeable and only such amendments to the Constitution are allowed which do not affect its basic structure or rob it of its essential character.

1. By simple majority of the Parliament: Amendments in this category can be made by a simple majority of members present and voting, before sending them for the President's assent.
2. By special majority of the Parliament: Amendments can be made in this category by a two - third majority of the total number of members present and voting, which should not be less than half of the total membership of the house.
3. By special majority of the Parliament and ratification of at least half of the state legislatures by special majority. After this, it is sent to the President for his assent.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

An amendment to the “Constitution of India” is an extremely difficult affair, and normally needs at least “two-thirds(2/3)” of the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha to pass it.

However, the Constitution of India is one of the most frequently amended constitutions in the world. Many matters that would be dealt with by ordinary statutes in most democracies must be dealt with by constitutional amendment in India due to the document's extraordinary detail.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

(vi) Checks and Balances:-

The Indian Supreme Court and Election Commission are recognized as the bedrock of Indian democracy; these two bodies stand up to the enormous powers that the constitution invests in the central government in general and to the unbridled powers of the Indian prime minister in particular.

The checks and balances that are provided by the constitution also smooth out the strained relations between the central government and the states by limiting the central government's ability to interfere in the states' affairs. Usually, either the state government or a political party may file an appeal or a writ petition in the Supreme Court against a policy or practice of the union or a state.

6. What Is The constitution of India?

Although India's constitution follows the British parliamentary system, it is the constitution and not the parliament of India that reigns supreme. As in the United States, the Indian courts interpret the constitution and adjudicate the laws passed by the parliament.

Although the parliament has the authority to amend the constitution, India's courts have made sure that the parliament does not change its fundamental structure, which guarantees economic opportunities, social justice, and religious and political freedom to all its citizens. Although political corruption and coercion are rampant in India—as they are in other developing countries—the courts are judiciary guarantors of India's freedom from oppression.

8. Conclusion

A Constitution symbolizes independence of a country. Framework and structure for the governance of a free country are provided in the Constitution. The Constituent Assembly prepared the draft of the Constitution by keeping the 'Objectives Resolution' as the backdrop which reflected the aspirations of the people of India.

The framing of the Constitution was completed on November 26, 1949 when the Constituent Assembly formally adopted the new Constitution. The Constitution came into force with effect from January 26, 1950.

The Constitution begins with a Preamble which declares India to be a Sovereign, Socialist, Secular, Democratic, Republic. The Preamble also mentions the goals of securing justice, liberty and equality for all its citizens and promotion of national unity and integrity on the basis of fraternity among the people assuring dignity of the individual.

8. Conclusion

PARLIAMENT MUSEUM : A high-tech story-telling Museum depicting the continuum of the democratic heritage in India has been dedicated to the Nation by Dr. A P J Abdul Kalam, President of India on 14th August 2006.

8. Conclusion

The Constitution of India has several distinctive features. It is the lengthiest Constitution in the world and it is a combination of rigidity and flexibility. The Constitution provides for a quasi-federal (It means a federal set up where despite having two clear sets of government – central and the states, more powers are given to the Central Government.) set up with a strong centre.

There is a clear division of powers between the Centre and the States. The Supreme Court of India, is the apex court of India which will resolve the disputes between the centre and state or between the states.

India has a parliamentary democracy. The Council of Ministers headed by the Prime Minister enjoys the real powers and is responsible to the Parliament. The Indian Constitution provides for Fundamental Rights which are justifiable. Ten Fundamental Duties have also been added to the Constitution. The Directive Principles of State Policy give a concrete shape to the welfare concept.

8. Conclusion

It is time to undertake a study of Indian Federalism with a view to valuate the trends, frictions and difficulties which have developed in the area of inter-governmental relations and to seek to evolve ways and means to meet the challenging task of making the Indian federation a more robust, strong and workable system so that the country may meet the tasks of self-improvement and development.

The responsibility lies on not only the jurists and policy framers, but also the citizens of the country to work in a harmonious manner for the development of the country.
